Independent Auditor's Report

Board of Directors
The Children's Home Society of Florida Foundation, Inc.

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of The Children's Home Society of Florida Foundation, Inc. (the Foundation), which comprise the statements of financial position as of June 30, 2023 and 2022, the related statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Foundation as of June 30, 2023 and 2022, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Foundation and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Foundation's ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are issued or available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and, therefore, is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Foundation's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Foundation's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

Notes to Financial Statements

Note 1. Nature of Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

Nature of organization: On December 7, 1984, the Board of Directors of The Children's Home Society of Florida (CHS) authorized a campaign to generate permanent endowment funds for Tomorrow's Children.

In order to ensure the permanency of the Tomorrow's Children fund, The Children's Home Society of Florida Foundation, Inc. (the Foundation) was established as a separate entity and was incorporated on December 18, 1990. Operations began April 1, 1991, upon the initial transfer of assets from CHS. The Foundation was organized to operate exclusively for the benefit of CHS and may receive contributions designated by the donor as restricted for specified purposes or restricted in perpetuity—endowment funds from any source acceptable to its Board of Directors. In accordance with the amended and restated Articles of Incorporation, the Foundation can hold funds which are available (both principal and interest) for CHS at the discretion of the Board of Directors of the Foundation or based on the nature of the contributions. All fundraising activities are performed by CHS; therefore, no fundraising expenses are included in the accompanying financial statements.

A summary of the Foundation's significant accounting policies follows:

Basis of presentation: The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting.

A nonprofit organization is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to two classes of net assets: without donor restrictions and with donor restrictions. Accordingly, net assets of the Foundation and changes therein are classified and reported as follows:

Net assets without donor restrictions: Net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed stipulations, but may be designated for specific purposes by action of the Board of Directors. Since all contributions can only benefit CHS, all contributions are considered net assets with donor restrictions.

Net assets with donor restrictions: Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that may or will be met either by actions of the Foundation, passage of time or permanently maintained by the Foundation.

Contributions and donor-imposed restrictions: Unconditional promises to give are recognized as contributions in the period received at their fair value and as net assets with donor restrictions. Conditional contributions or promises to give, that is those with both a measurable performance or other barrier and a right of return or release, are not recognized until they become unconditional, that is, at the time when the conditions on which they depend on are substantially met. When a donor-imposed restriction expires, that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished, net assets with donor restrictions are reclassified into net assets without donor restrictions and are reported in the accompanying statements of activities as net assets released from restrictions. Earnings on contributions are restricted to use as specified by the donor. When donor restrictions are met, the earnings are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions and reported in the accompanying statements of activities as net assets released from restrictions.

Contributed services are recognized and recorded at fair value only to the extent they create or enhance non-financial assets or require specialized skills, are provided by individuals possessing these skills and would typically need to be purchased if not provided by donations. The Foundation recorded no contributed services for the years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022. However, many individuals volunteer time and perform a variety of tasks for the Foundation. The value of the volunteered time for these functions are not included in the accompanying financial statements because it does not meet the recognition criteria.

The Children's Home Society of Florida Foundation, Inc.

Note 1. Nature of Organization and Significant Accounting Policies (Continued)

Cash and cash equivalents: For purposes of the statements of cash flows, the Foundation considers all short-term securities issued by financial institutions with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash and cash equivalents.

Investments and investment income (loss), net: Investments are reported at fair value (see Note 2). Investment income (loss), net, reported in the accompanying statements of activities, includes realized and unrealized gains and losses and interest and dividend income, net of investment expenses, as increases or decreases in net assets with donor restrictions.

Income taxes: The Foundation is exempt from income taxes under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and from state income taxes under a similar provision of the Florida statutes. Accordingly, no provision for federal and state income taxes has been recorded in the accompanying financial statements.

The Foundation follows accounting standards relating to accounting for uncertainty in income taxes. The Foundation assessed whether there were any uncertain tax positions which may give rise to income tax liabilities and determined that there were no such matters requiring recognition in the accompanying financial statements. The Foundation files income tax returns in the U.S. federal jurisdiction. Generally, the Foundation is no longer subject to U.S. federal income tax examinations by tax authorities for years before June 30, 2020.

Endowments funds: The Foundation follows accounting standards relating to endowments of nonprofit organizations and net asset classification of funds, as adopted by the state of Florida, subject to an enacted version of the Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act (UPMIFA) and enhanced disclosures for all endowment funds. These standards require additional disclosures about endowments (both donor-restricted funds and board-designated funds).

The Foundation's endowment funds included donor restricted endowment funds. As required by accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, net assets associated with endowment funds are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. The Foundation maintains the original historical dollar value of the contribution received as an endowment. The Foundation classifies as net assets with donor restrictions—restricted in perpetuity: (a) the original value of gifts donated to the permanent endowment, (b) the original value of subsequent gifts to the permanent endowment and (c) those limited circumstances where donors have required that a portion of investment return be added to the endowment.

The Foundation considers the following factors in making a determination to appropriate or accumulate donor-restricted endowment funds:

1. The duration and preservation of the fund
2. The purposes of the Foundation and the donor-restricted endowment fund
3. General economic conditions
4. The possible effect of inflation and deflation
5. The expected total return from income and the appreciation of investments
6. Other resources of the Foundation
7. The investment policies of the Foundation

The Children's Home Society of Florida Foundation, Inc.

Spending policy: Endowments are established to preserve principal and generate an income stream to support the purpose of the funds held. A spending policy establishes a reasonable, sustainable, consistent and predictable expenditure level, which enables the Foundation to use endowment earnings to support its operations and CHS to the fullest extent possible, while ensuring that the principal value of the endowment is maintained and protected from the effects of inflation.

The Foundation has established a policy that investment income from endowments is used to support its operations and CHS. Investment income from endowments to be used to support its operations and CHS is determined by investment earnings on endowments, net of any realized gains or losses. The original principal in the restricted endowment is invested in perpetuity and thus is not available to fund any draws.

Investment policy: The general investment objective is to provide income to augment and support current operating needs and to provide contributions to CHS, together with principal growth to offset the effects of inflation. The endowment funds are diversified across asset classes to achieve an optimal balance between risk and return. The Foundation establishes a reasonable risk level it is willing to accept when it determines in which funds to invest. The Board of Directors is responsible for determining how and where funds are invested. All investments will be made within the Investment Policy Guidelines set by the Board of Directors.

Use of estimates: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of support and revenue, and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Recent accounting pronouncements: The Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) has issued certain new or modifications to, or interpretations of, existing accounting guidance. The Foundation has considered the new pronouncements and does not believe that any new or modified guidance will have a material impact on the Foundation's reported financial position or activities in the near term.

Subsequent events: The Foundation has evaluated subsequent events through January 29, 2024, the date on which the financial statements were available to be issued.

The Foundation invests in various investment securities in accordance with its investment policy. These investment securities are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, market and credit risk. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities and the uncertainty related to changes in their values, it is reasonable to expect that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect the investment balance.

The Foundation follows accounting standards relating to fair value measurements which defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The accounting standards relating to fair value measurements establishes a three-level valuation hierarchy for disclosure of fair value measurements. The valuation hierarchy is based upon the transparency of inputs to the valuation of an asset or liability as of the measurement date. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs.

The Children’s Home Society of Florida Foundation, Inc.

Note 2. Investments and Fair Value Measurements (Continued)

Investments recorded at fair value in the accompanying statements of financial position are categorized based upon the level of judgment associated with the inputs used to measure their fair value. Level inputs, as defined by this guidance, are as follows:

Level 1: Quoted market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2: Observable market based inputs or unobservable inputs that are corroborated by market data

Level 3: Unobservable inputs that are not corroborated by market data

Fair value of actively traded debt and equity securities are based on quoted market prices.

The following tables summarize fair value measurements by level at June 30, 2023 and 2022, for investments measured at fair value on a recurring basis:

Note 3. Related Party Transactions

The Foundation is related to CHS through common members of both the Foundation’s and the CHS’ Boards, however, the Foundation and CHS have separate Boards. The Foundation does not have majority voting control over CHS, as well as CHS does not have majority voting control over the Foundation. Accordingly, the financial statements of the Foundation are not consolidated with CHS.

Distributions of net investment income, less reasonable and necessary expenses of the Foundation, are typically distributed to CHS upon approval by the Foundation’s Board of Directors. The contributions made to CHS during the years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022, were $1,036,997 and $812,988, respectively.

CHS provides program and support services to the Foundation. The Foundation entered into a management agreement with CHS in which a flat fee per month is paid to CHS to cover program and support service expenses. The cost of these services were $236,052 for the years ended June 30, 2023 and 2022, and is included in professional fees in the accompanying statements of activities.
